

B'nai B'rith Elects Novitsky; To Seek State Libel Laws

By G. M. COHEN

Special

MARION, Ind.—Louis J. Novitsky, of Fort Wayne, was elevated from first vice-presidency to the presidency of the Indiana-Kentucky State Association of B'nai B'rith at the annual meeting here Sunday as the Association authorized the appointment of a committee to study the possibility of legislation in the Indiana Legislature leading to the enactment of a bill making racial libel or discrimination of any group punishable by law.

Rabbi J. Marshall Taxay, of Terre Haute, a former president of the Association, authorized the motion which was finally passed in abbreviated form after Sam Mantel, second vice-president of District No. 2, pointed out that the committee, which was styled in the original motion as a State Anti-Defamation Committee, might be objectionable to and conflict with the Anti-Defamation League.

In addition to new president Novitsky, other officers named were first vice-president, Julius S. Friedman, of East Chicago, Ind.; second vice-president, Reuben H. Berman, of Marion, and third vice-president, Seymour Welsberger, of South Bend. Directors for the coming year will be Jacob I. Spivak, South Bend; Emmet Kraus, Fort Wayne; Dave Cohen, Louisville; Hyman H. Cohen, East Chicago; Milton Dreyfus, Gary; Richard Efroymsen, Indianapolis; Ben Friedman, Hammond; Sig B. Kling, Kokomo; Fred H. Kluga, Evansville; Leon Levin, Terre Haute; Allan Joseph, Michigan City; Gil Roskin, Marion; Sam Schwartz, Marion; Herman Messing, Lafayette and Charles Spiegel, Anderson. Andrew Fried, of Lafayette, perennial secretary-treasurer of the Association, was re-elected for the ninth year after Mr. Feibleman, who installed the officers, pledged him to pay all bills begrudgingly.

Hungarians Hit Pro-Nazi Pastor

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—Claiming to represent the vast majority of the city's Hungarian-American population, the Justice for Hungary Committee voiced first opposition to the pro-Nazi movement here and voted severe censure of Rev. Ladanoi, an outspoken pro-Nazi pastor, who has laid the groundwork for an organization whose objective is the nazification of New York City's 100,000 Hungarian-Americans.

The admitted anti-Semite, Rev. Zsigmond Ladanoi, in this country but two years, has constantly preached Nazism from his pulpit and is a contributor to a weekly Hungarian Nazi paper in Bridgeport, Conn.

ANTI-FASCIST TO LECTURE

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—Dr. Massimo Salvadori, an expert on Italy, who served a year in an Italian prison for helping to lead a secret organization for democracy and subsequently observed the wars in Ethiopia and Spain, will give a series of lectures on "Anti-Semitism in Italy," "Italian and Arab in the Near East" and other aspects of the Fascist regime, under the auspices of the League for Fair Play.

The Dead Shall Arise

Special

MARION, Ind.—Solemnly pronounced dead, and with Kaddish recited by the Indiana-Kentucky State Association of B'nai B'rith afternoon session here, Dr. Jacob Katz, vice-president of Lake Lodge, arose to the platform, to the discomfiture of student Rabbi Jacob I. Pollish, of Hebrew Union College, and the merriment of the delegates. Dr. B. F. Gumbiner, president, and Herbert Morris, secretary of Lake Lodge, also heard Kaddish read for them.

The mistake crept in when Rabbi Pollish was given the list of officers of Lake Lodge instead of the list of brethren who had died during the year.

WHOM Anti-Jewish Programs Censured

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

WASHINGTON.—The Federal Communications Commission has taken action against Radio Station WHOM in Jersey City, N. J., for disseminating pro-Fascist and anti-Jewish propaganda in German, Italian and Arabic. The FCC issued a 90-day renewal of the station's license, instead of the usual six-month renewal, and ordered that its programs be scrutinized during this period to determine what further steps should be taken.

The FCC's action was taken on the basis of a report by its legal staff after complaints from listeners. The staff's report called one Italian-language weekly program "calculated to incite race hatred and therefore cannot be regarded as in the public interest," but nevertheless recommended full-term renewal of the license. The commission, however, voted unanimously for the trial extension.

Rabbi and Bishop In Joint College Course

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

PROVIDENCE.—A unique joint course in "Christianity and Judaism" is being given this semester by Bishop Granville G. Bennett and Rabbi Israel M. Goldman at Brown University. It is described in the university catalog as "an attempt to find some common and enduring elements in both Christianity and Judaism" in order "to explore the basis for mutual appreciation and co-operation among the constructive religious forces in the community." Rabbi Goldman said: "It is very likely that this is the first time that such a joint venture has been sponsored by an American university."

Refugees Living In Ditches Are Assigned To Temporary Haven

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

BRNO.—The authorities tentatively approved a plan for removal of Jewish refugees in the Czech-German "no-man's-land" to a nearby abandoned factory. An incomplete J.T.A. survey indicated about 100 persons, half of them women and children, were living in territory that has not yet been assigned either to Czechoslovakia or Germany.

Last week the Brno authorities consistently raided cafes and homes and stopped passersby in a search for refugees from the German-occupied area. It is estimated that 150 persons were rounded up in the raids and deposited in Jewish Congress Re-Elects S. Wise, Petitions J. D. C.

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—Dr. Stephen S. Wise was re-elected president and Louis Lipsky, vice-president at the closing session of the annual session of the American Jewish Congress, attended by 550 delegates at the Hotel Biltmore here.

Jacob Leichtman was named treasurer; Judge Nathan D. Perlman, chairman of the executive committee, and four delegates to the General Council for Jewish Rights and an administrative committee of 130 were elected.

A resolution regarding the Joint Distribution Committee was referred to the administrative committee. It called for the broadening of the base of its representation and its integration in "the organized life of American Jewry," instructing the congress executive to enter into conference with the J.D.C. and the General Council for Jewish Rights "for such action as may be required." An other resolution asked delegates to seek welfare fund appropriations for Congress work, and to launch independent campaigns in communities where such appropriations were not forthcoming.

Absorptive Rule Return Indicated

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—Great Britain has decided to return to the economic absorptivity principle in regulating Palestine immigration, Frederick T. Birchall reported to the New York Times from London. The change, he said, could be directly attributed to American public opinion and intervention by Washington.

According to Mr. Birchall, members of the Cabinet were engaged in determining the economic capacity, "with some prospect that the final figure may be somewhere between the present limit (12,000) and 25,000" yearly. This new figure, he said, will be only temporary until the political status of Palestine is decided.

Partition, Mr. Birchall asserted, will probably be abandoned and replaced by a scheme of separate Jewish and Arab areas, both under British rule, with the former permitted to regulate immigration to a certain extent, with the absorptivity principle in mind.

150 Arrive At Shanghai

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

SHANGHAI.—A group of 150 Jewish professionals and businessmen, refugees from Austria and Germany, arrived in war-torn Shanghai on the S. S. Conte di Rosso this week. Many of them, coming from concentration camps, were without funds. The Jewish Community is arranging accommodations for them in abandoned bomb-damaged Chinese houses in Japanese-controlled Hongkew.

J. D. C. Asks For Million

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—The mass deportation of Polish Jews from Germany has exhausted every resource of the Joint Distribution Committee, Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, national chairman, announced at a press conference, making public a telegram to Jewish communal leaders and fund raising organizations throughout the United States appealing for $1,000,000 in cash in addition to funds their communities have already subscribed to the J.D.C. campaign for $5,100,000.

Gets 6 Months For Subway Sticker

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—For pasting on a subway pillar a sticker bearing a caricature of the Statue of Liberty and urging a boycott of Jews, Joseph Bono, who said he represented the "Christian Front," was sentenced to six months in the workhouse.

The sticker depicted Liberty as having a large nose and holding aloft the Communist hammer and sickle instead of the torch. In Liberty's left arm nestled a top-hatted gentleman of the type used by cartoonists to represent capitalism. Above the caricature was printed: "Wake up America! Do you want this?" and below it: "Clean up America! Break the Red Plague! Boycott the Jew!"

Two Jews Fined

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEWARK, N. J.—Two Jews, Alexander Goldberg and David Kampf, were fined $25 each on charges arising from a demonstration of anti-Nazis in front of Schwaben Hall, where a meeting of the German-American Bund was being held. They were accused of interfering with a policeman.

Nazi Consul Here Hits Free Press

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—German Consul-General Hans Borchers last week defended Germany's anti-Semitic measures and criticized freedom of press and worship in America in a speech at a meeting at the Turn Hall arranged by the consulate and attended by about 1,500 persons at 60 cents each.

"If we enforce the expulsion of Jews from the life of the nation," Dr. Borchers said, "we do so because it is essential for us and it seems a remarkable coincidence that other European nations do likewise. It is a grotesque spectacle to witness that those who have kept silent for twenty years come now to the fore with their attacks on totalitarian states. A special group among them are Jewish intellectuals whose activities National Socialism has sufficiently denounced."

The Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League telegraphed Secretary of State Cordell Hull demanding Dr. Borchers' recall. The League urged the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and the National Catholic Welfare Conference to join in the demand because of the consul's criticism of free press and liberty of worship here.

Palestine Future In Hand Of Jews Hadassah Hears

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

ST. LOUIS.—Dr. Nahum Goldmann, Jewish Agency's Geneva Representative told the 1,200 delegates to Hadassah's 24th annual convention in a Balfour Day address that Jews were "already the masters of our fate" in Palestine and proclaimed "the triumph of Zionism already achieved in its foundations."

"We will have to fight for the national home with the force of a desperate people, and therefore we will finally be strong, despite the forces working against us," Dr. Goldmann said, adding that "no final decision can be reached with which we are not in agreement."

All officers were reelected. The convention accepted a budget of $244,500 for the Hadassah Medical Organization in Palestine next year, including maintenance of the Jerusalem medical center, and an additional $51,000 for child welfare.

Hadassah sent $1,250,000 to Palestine last year, it was announced by Mrs. Alexander Lampert, treasurer, including $340,000 for Youth Aliyah, $105,000 for the Jewish National Fund and $424,000 for the Jerusalem medical center.

A message from President Roosevelt congratulated the Hadassah for its quarter century of "ministration on behalf of those who are sick," and then added his best wishes for "a convention that will inspire all who participate to work with unremitting zeal for the relief of human suffering, wherever it is found."

It was unanimously decided to send an open letter to the President thanking him for his championship of democracy and high morality among nations.

Arabs Aroused By U. S. Stand

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

JERUSALEM.—A campaign against "everything American" has been proclaimed by Falastin, Palestine's principal Arab daily, in protest against support of the Jewish homeland by the United States. The paper said editorially that Arabs throughout the Near East would boycott all American institutions.

Four Arab Christian clergymen of various demonstrations, including the Rev. Youssef Istaphan of the American Church in Jerusalem, affiliated with the Christian Missionary Alliance, cabled Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain a protest regarding pressure by Christians in the United States against what they termed Arab rights in Palestine. A similar protest was made by an Arab delegation to George H. Wadsworth, United States Consul General. An Arab women's committee delivered a memorandum to Wadsworth protesting against the American attitude on the Palestine situation and reminding him of the Wilsonian principle of self-determination of peoples.

WANTED U. S. FOR MANDATE OTTAWA.—The late Sir Robert Borden, wartime Canadian Premier, in his memoirs published this week by MacMillan Company, says he had urged that the United States be given the job of the Palestine mandate.

Marriage Talk By Dr. Popenoe Opens Kirshbaum Forum

"The Mental Hygiene of Marriage" will be discussed by Dr. Paul Popenoe at the first Open Forum lecture of the current season at Kirshbaum Center at 8:15 p. m. Sunday. Dr. Popenoe is regarded as one of the outstanding authorities in America on the question of marriage and human relationship. Dr. Popenoe is General Director of the Institute of Family Relations of Los Angeles, Calif. He is also lecturer in biology at the University of Southern California.

Borinstein Home Gets 115 Members

A total of 115 new members for the Joseph and Anna Borinstein Home for the Aged was reported at the first luncheon meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Sam Yaver. Captains of teams are Mrs. Wilfred Borinstein, Mrs. Lewis Levy, Mrs. Fred Born, Mrs. Otto Diamond, Mrs. David Larvey, Mrs. Ben Cohen, Mrs. Max Finklestein, Mrs. Ben Shalansky and Mrs. Ben Sagalowsky. The next report meeting will be held at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the Homestead, 5694 N. Meridian. A board meeting of the Home will be held at 9:30 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 10, in Kirshbaum Center.

SISTERHOOD TEA SET

A "new member guest tea" will bring to a close the membership drive of the Beth El Sisterhood at 2:15 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the home of Mrs. R. Domont, 5201 N. Meridian. Dr. Evelyn Berger will preside. On the program will be Louise Houk, harpist, and Mrs. Frieda Robinson of the Wm. H. Block Co., who will give an illustrated talk on "Capitalizing Your Style Value".

DRAMATIC WORKSHOP MEETS
The Dramatic Workshop of Beth El Temple will hold its first meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, in Beth El Temple with Sol Blumenthal directing the work.

TYPL Supper Meeting Sunday

The Temple Young People's League will meet for supper at 5:30 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 13, in the Temple. The dramatic group will present a play and there will be a speaker. In charge of the program is Jean Goldsmith. Mary Louise Falender is arranging the supper which will cost 40c.

OFFICERS ELECTED

New officers of the Agudas Herzl Young Judea Club assumed their duties at a meeting Wednesday evening in Kirshbaum Center. They are Charlotte Solotken, president; Marvin Borman, vice-president; Alfred Dobrowitz, secretary, and Joe Lewis, treasurer. Leo Klein is chairman of the social committee.

Mrs. Harry Schwartz and her daughter, Virginia, and Seymour Pinkus spent the week-end in Ft. Wayne.

Beth El Youth Group Sets Opening Meeting Sunday

A highly contested election, a whozit contest, a true and false quiz, and a luncheon will be on the opening program of the year of the Beth El Youth Group at 5 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 6, in Beth El Temple. Norman Weisman and Josh Feinberg will have charge of the contests. The luncheon will be 25c.

TRIP TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets for the project of the round trip to New York and six days at the Hotel Taft, all expenses paid, which is being sponsored by the School Luncheon and Infant Welfare Committees of Hadassah may be obtained by calling Mrs. L. L. Goodman or Mrs. Herman Chalfie.

By MILDRED COHEN

The cool breezes are here and that means warm coats, and jackets and capes, which means The Indiana Fur Co., and the largest and finest selection of furs in the Middle West. If you're interested in being the smartest looking girl anywhere, then you must see the stylish silver fox jackets, finger length, now being shown at The Indiana Fur Co. I dropped in for just a few minutes yesterday, and despite my other calls I spent too much time there because I just couldn't pull myself away. Then I should remind you again about the chic hats to match your fur coat. They definitely are the rage this season, and they're so inexpensive. My advice to you young ladies, is to drop in at The Indiana Fur Co. today.

There must be some magic to it, because otherwise I can't figure out how HILLMAN'S invariably have the newest styles, right along with the magazines that show them as "just from Paris". I'll read all about the newest in dresses or suits in the current issue of Vogue or Harper's Bazaar, then at Hillman's I'll see exactly the same styles. But whatever the reason for this ability to divine styles, I see more and more of my girl friends there and everywhere I go, they're talking about HILLMAN'S, and what distinctive clothes they have on display there. Need I say more?

City Mourns Loss Of Charles Medias

Death robbed the Indianapolis Jewish Community of one of its most prominent members when Charles Medias, father of B'nai B'rith president Julius Medias, died Monday in the Methodist Hospital. He was seventy-one years old.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the residence, 721 N. Delaware. Rabbi Elias Charry, Rev. Abraham Lazar and Cantor Myro Glass conducted the rites. Interment was in the United Hebrew Congregation Cemetery with arrangements by the Aaron-Ruben Funeral Home. Surviving are three sons, William Medias, Theodore Medias and Julius Medias, all of Indianapolis; two daughters, Ruth Medias of Indianapolis and Mrs. Sabina Brumberg of Buffalo, N. Y.; a sister, Mrs. Frieda Techner of Austria; a brother, Zuna Medias of New York, and three grandchildren.

Federation Meets Tuesday

The Jewish Women's Federation of Clubs will meet at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, in Beth El Temple. The Federation has been invited to the meeting of the Council of Jewish Women Monday afternoon in the War Memorial.

Among the visitors in the city last week at the Marott Hotel were Rabbi and Mrs. Milton Steinberg of New York who stopped en route to St. Louis where Rabbi Steinberg delivered an address at the Hadassah Convention. They visited many friends here.

The Misses Virginia Kramer and Dorothy Boch of Cincinnati will come Sunday to attend the Junior Council Peace Meeting. Miss Kramer is a past president and Miss Boch is first vice-president of the Mid-Eastern Region of Junior Council.

Oscar Kushner is convalescing in St. Vincent's Hospital following an operation.

Jack Finklestein is convalescing at his home after an illness in the Methodist Hospital.

First Hadassah Oneq Shabbat Next Saturday

Hadassah will hold its first Oneq Shabbat of the season at 2 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 12, at the home of Mrs. Harold Platt, 5664 Washington Blvd. The program will include a review of Scholem Asch's "Three Novels" by Frieda Brill and current events presented by Mrs. Arthur Rose. At the tea which will follow Mrs. H. H. Silberman and Mrs. Bailey Brown will pour. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Ralph Kroot and Mrs. Sam Kroot. A board meeting of Hadassah will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, in Kirshbaum Center.

Seven Indiana Cities On Hadassah Honor Roll

Seven Indiana cities are listed on the Hadassah Honor Roll appearing in the current Hadassah News Letter. All have met their financial quotas for the year. The cities are Ft. Wayne, Gary, Indianapolis, Lafayette, South Bend, Twin City and Whiting.

FAVORS IMMIGRATION

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

WELLINGTON, New Zealand.—W. E. Barnard, speaker of the House of Representatives, has declared that if New Zealand opens its doors to immigration, refugees from Czechoslovakia should be given first consideration. Barnard paid tribute to Prime Minister Michael J. Savage for his statement promising to aid the Czechoslovak refugees. The Speaker expressed the hope that the declaration would mark the beginning of a well-organized immigration policy.

A family dinner was given Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Efrogmson in honor of Miss Gertrude Feibleman, who celebrated her birthday.

Weiner Collects Odds And Ends Of Girdiron News

By MORRIS WEINER

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—Sid Luckman, the starplug of the Columbia University eleven for the past three years and a lad who needs no introduction here, became the first football player to be honored by LIFE magazine with a full cover picture in its October 22 issue. . . . LIFE went on to devote three solid pages to him and called him "the country's best passer" after having introduced him as "a Jewish kid from Brooklyn." . . . Hank Greenberg, you will recall, was the first and only baseball player to break into the three color full page spread published by the New York Daily News last summer. . . . Hank, however, was introduced as "a Jewish kid from the Bronx."

Arnold Horowitz, Harvard's first Jewish football captain, became the Crimson's first and only Jewish football coach. . . . You probably heard of him as Arnold Horween. In the five years he was head man on the Cambridge gridiron, Harvard won thirty-four of its forty-eight games. . . . And both Arnold and his brother Ralph, the former in the backfield and the latter on the line, were on the Harvard eleven that went to the Rose Bowl in 1920 to register the East's first triumph in that post-season classic by a score of 7-6. . . . One point gave the Crimson the unofficial championship of the country and it was Arnold's accurate kick from placement for the try for point after touchdown that turned the tide of battle. . . .

Tollmich Barred

Allan Tollmich, the lad who put Wayne University on the map as its "one-man track team," was barred from football competition by that school's cinder path mentor despite the urgings of the Detroit sportswriters that what Wayne needed was a "man like Tollmich in the backfield to net at least one victory for Wayne."

Spector of Navy and Schoenbaum of Ohio State loom as two of the country's outstanding tackles in the all-star crop of 1938. . . . When Benny Friedman played football at Michigan some ten years ago the campus considered it disgraceful when fewer than 300 candidates would report for the football team. . . . Recently, on the C.C.N.Y. gridiron where Benny is head coach, the former all-American passer related this story and then pointed to the nineteen players cavorting on the hard bed rock that serves as sod to the college stadium. "That's my entire squad,"

Reporter Announces Scoop---Hedy LaMaar Is Jewish, A Full-Blooded And Beautiful Daughter of Zion

By HELEN ZIGMOND

HOLLYWOOD. — Pull up your chairs . . . herren und damen . . . our Austrian ticker-tape reports that Hedy LaMaar . . . the (g)LaMarrou one . . . was Ella Grun (umlaut over the "u") to her school-mates. And a full-blooded daughter of Zion is she. Papa Grun was a merchant of cloth, dress goods, or yardage. On the side, he was a sort of unofficial cantor.

Ella . . . uh . . . Hedy married Fritz Mandel, a baker, not a banker as formerly believed. He carried on his business in a very small way at first . . . branched out and expanded during the war . . . finally rose to the proprietorship of a huge plant of factory proportions. As Hedy's husband he had already become a financial power.

"Extase" was Hedy's first, last, and only thespic attempt in Europe. Coming to Hollywood she was under contract to M.G.M. for months, yet no notice was taken of her. Walter Wanger borrowed her for "Algiers." Instantly she rocketed to stardom. Reclaimed by her home lot, she is now working on "New York Cinderella." And the ballyhooers are busy spilling publicity as fast as the ink pours. Her moaned Benny. "At Michigan there were nineteen men on the managing staff alone."

Irish Stars

Brooklyn College and City College have long been known as almost all-Jewish institutions. Yet at a recent football meeting between these two old rivals an Irishman named James Clancy was the outstanding star. . . . And at Georgetown University, a Jesuit school, Maurice Dubofsky, son of a rabbi, played so well that he later became head line coach, and while we're on the subject, "Indian" Yablok, former Colgate all-American, now is head coach at St. Francis and Joe Kottman, former N.Y.U. cracker-jack, holds down the same post at St. Michaels. . . . The name of Marshall Goldberg may be synonymous with Pittsburgh University, but don't forget that Goldberg never went to a Rose Bowl game, although Eddie Hirschberg, captain and star tackle of the 1931 Panther eleven, played there in 1930, and that Izzy Weinstock duplicated his performance in 1934, and that Harry Seidleson must be mentioned as one of Pitt's all-time all-star guards. Lorber, Levy, and Becker, pride and joy of Tau Epsilon Pi fraternity on the U. of P. campus, are all varsity gridgers at Pennsylvania.

heart-line is at present divided between Reginald Gardiner and Doug Fairbanks, Jr.

An antithetical story surrounds Dolly Haas, another import. For a year she was held under contract without ever facing a camera. Released, she tried freelancing. She was signed for a picture with Lubitsch . . . but as the writers developed the story, it called for a different type of actress. Now Dolly wonders will the kliegs ever shine again?

The Ritzes suffered frequent tumbles while shooting "Straight, Place, and Show." Beginning the grind of their new flicker, Al has already gashed his face with a rapier. A slice here, a knock there . . . they don't mind . . . it's all in the game. But on one point they are adamant—no lace panties for "Musketeers!"

Elegant black and gold invitations were issued for a recent testimonial dinner . . . admission, ten dollars a head. A Cohn brother, receiving one, circled the charge and jotted, "Does this include train fare?"

This week Our Sammy was elected honorary lord rector of Glasgow University—almost. When the studio received word of the distinguished nomination, the announcement, plus highly eulogistic stories of the Goldwyn career, flowed from the publicity office to the press. However, before printing, the cautious wire services made a quick check-up, found it's "ribbing" time in Scotland . . . and the whole thing was only a gag by the students of the university.

Clef-and-staff writer Mack Gordon received a note from his boss saying they were so rushed for music he would have to limit his sleeping to seven hours nightly. "Okay," agreed Gargantuan Gordon, "but don't cut down my eating time!"

Reeling 'Round: A deal is being talked for Conrad Veidt to come to Hollywood for a film. Curt Bois, in a white wig, will impersonate Stokowski for "Words and Music." In Chicago liberal groups are planning a boycott of the one theater persistently showing UFA films. Latest Italian edict is the radio ban on records by Jewish composers or artists . . . But no method has yet been found to delete a Semitic violinist from a platter symphony orchestra. Sam Pokrass has set "Cy-rano de Bergerac" into an "oper-ette" frame, which the Shuberts will produce on Broadway. Maxie Rosenbloom threatens to be married within a year . . . has a bet on it, and can't afford to lose. Heil the Warners for their courage! They plan a film based on the Nazi spy trial in New York, with eye-openers on Nazi subversive activities in America, Chaplin is also brewing a flicker anent Fuehrerism

... his ready-made lip brush should be very handy for the character.

More anon.

Vassar College Uses Union Book For Text

Special
CINCINNATI, O. — Vassar College, outstanding Eastern educational institution at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. uses Idelsohn's "Ceremonies of Judaism" published by the Union of American Hebrew Congregations as a standard textbook for a required course in comparative religions, Rabbi Jerome Unger of Congregation Brethren of Israel, stated in a letter to Rabbi Louis I. Egelson, Assistant Director of the Department of Synagogue and School Extension.

Rabbi Unger, adviser to Jewish girls at Vassar declared that visits to Temple services and consultation with him are a part of the prescribed study of Judaism. Many students regularly attend services and congregational functions, the Poughkeepsie Rabbi added.

The Editor's Chair:

It may be that they deserve a special niche in heaven and that their work puts them on a high plane where they can criticize and find fault, but are never liable to criticism themselves, but I prefer to class them with Jews who would buy Nazi products. I refer to that privileged class in American Jewry known to the trade as press agents.

When their long-winded articles which deserve space not in any newspaper, but in a good-sized waste basket, are cut down by even so much as a word, or the product of their whirlwind brain is relegated to page two instead of page one, column one, they holler louder than a beaten Italian soldier in Spain.

Not that they have any right to holler, because their output is strictly on a basis of use if you think it's news or throw away, if you think otherwise. But for some reason, in the Anglo-Jewish field, this bunch of news traducers have seized for themselves the special prerogative of calling names and ordering this and that and even telling editors how to run their newspapers.

If they weren't paid to hide the news, and if once in a great while they would hand out an honest-to-goodness news story, and if they didn't run to the daily papers whenever a decent story fell into their lap, anglo-Jewish editors might be constrained to show them some respect. But in every case they send in articles which invariably go. The High And Mighty National Organization, of which so and so is president and so and so vice-president and so and so treasurer, announced today that the High and Mighty National Organization was in receipt of a letter from its representative for foreign relief for children of stricken parents in stricken lands, etc., etc.

Such is the tenor of their stories when they have no news to purvey but must get out a release so their bosses won't feel they are laying down on the job. But when something does happen in their balliwick, what do they do? They reel off paragraph after paragraph of nonsensical material and then in paragraph nine they put the real news, hidden from any but the most suspicious eye trained to search to the last for a decent lead.

Did anyone hear of any press agent arranging for his organization to single out the anglo-Jewish press for the fine publicity service rendered? Did anyone ever hear of a press agent arranging for his organization to urge their members to subscribe to any anglo-Jewish newspapers. Not these myopic agents. They wouldn't stir themselves if to press a button meant the end of the Nazi regime.

This tirade may be a bit on the spleen side, but then any other outlook would be gliding the anglo-Jewish press agent with a coat of paint they would disgrace. Recognized press agent for non-Jewish organizations and firms, obey a certain set of rules beyond which they dare not go. But not his anglo-Jewish prototype. They are far superior to lowly editors, far superior to the heads of the organizations they represent and far superior to any dictates of decency, reciprocation, or consideration.

A Kentucky State Association Of B'nai B'rith

THE absence of any Louisville delegation at the annual Indiana-Kentucky State B'nai B'rith Association in Marion, Ind., Sunday gives added weight to the suggestion that Kentucky should organize its own State association.

In Muncie last year the Louisville delegation was composed of Tony Levitan, Max Waldman, Irvin Levitan, Dave Cohen and Harry Resnick as compared to the more than seventy-five delegates from Indianapolis, a lodge approximately the same size as the Louisville lodge. This year, although the friendship ties between many members of the Louisville lodge and the men of lodges scattered throughout Indiana are very strong, no one from Louisville was able to make the 400-mile one-day journey. And next year's meeting, which will be held in Fort Wayne, Ind., will be at an even longer distance from Louisville.

The Louisville lodge today ranks as the second largest in the Indiana-Kentucky Association, slightly smaller than the Indianapolis lodge and more than twice as large as any other in the association. Yet no Louisville or Kentucky man is or has been an officer of the association for many years, and only one Louisville man, Dave Cohen, is on the board of directors.

The annual meeting serves a far more comprehensive purpose than the actual mechanical work performed. Friendships are renewed. Delegates and their wives eat and dance together. And above all, the meeting sets the tone and the spirit of co-operation and encouragement so necessary for the proper attitude toward the difficult work of the ensuing twelve months.

All this the Louisville lodge, for years one of the outstanding in the nation and now gradually reasserting its former importance, loses.

A very active lodge could be organized in Henderson and Owensboro. Paducah has a lodge. Another serviceable lodge could be formed with Hopkinsville as headquarters and with Jewish men of surrounding towns as additional nucleus. The same is true of Middlesboro, Pineville and Barbourville. The Lexington lodge and perhaps the lodge at Ashland would complete the picture, one so very different from the displeasing B'nai B'rith outlook in Kentucky today everywhere outside of Louisville.

Activity begets activity. Indiana is remarkable for its strong lodges in small communities. With the renewed activity of the Louisville lodge and the impetus of a State organization, Kentucky can duplicate the splendid work of Indiana. As it is now much of the leadership in the Louisville lodge is being wasted. With this leadership Kentucky lodges could easily be organized into an Association, B'nai B'rith work in the state could be raised to the same high level as at present in the Louisville lodge, and the annual meetings would engender the same spirit of co-operation and achievement as at present in Indiana.

U. S. Italians Have Learned Democracy's Lesson

IT has been an axiom of immigration precepts in the immigration policy of the United States government that immigrants from Northern and Western European countries were more desirable as future Americans than those from Eastern and Southern Europe.

Yet if the numerous bund organizations on the one hand, and the disavowal by Italians of Mussolini's anti-Jewish acts on the other hand are any indication, then it would seem that the above maxim could do with a little revision.

Italian Americans, as was natural, were the first to applaud Mussolini's renaissance of Italy, although even in the first days of fascism many Italians decried the muzzling of freedom in their homeland. But when that rebirth took an aspect which the situation indicated was something less than essential and certainly brutal, Italians here added the important weight of their disapproval to the general condemnation. If fascism made a healthy meal for the debilitated Italian state, then Italians looked upon the change with the same tolerant view as did too many Jews. But now from the lowest Italian laborer to the most influential leaders, has arisen growing dissatisfaction with Il Duce's unnecessary anti-Jewish campaign.

Doesn't this mean that most U. S. Italians have placed their adopted country first in their allegiance, and their native land second? And does this mean that too many German Americans have never submerged their fealty to the fatherland? Whatever the situation, the U. S. Italians seemed to have learned the lesson of democracy well enough to criticize those policies in their homeland which are antagonistic to the accepted principles of decency and civilization.

That German Americans have rarely taken the same stand against Hitler's persecution of the Jews and Catholics may mean that Hitler's threat of retaliation against relatives living in the Third Reich was too often carried out, but in any event it stands as a matter of record that Italians did protest and that Germans did not.

Joseph V. Connolly, General Manager of the Hearst Newspapers, Says Catholics Must Align Themselves On The Side of Jews, In An Address Before the National Eucharistic Congress In New Orleans. Whenever or wherever Christianity fails, it is the failure of Christians. There was a time when the pagans marveled: "Behold how the Christians love one another." Behold TODAY the pagan jeers of this day echoing over land and sea:

"Kill the Jew!" "Burn the Bishops!" "Starve them!" "Pillage!" "Whip!" "Despoil them!" "Disgrace them!" And I thought of the words from His Sermon on the Mount: "Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." And again the words from Matthew: "But I say unto you, that whosoever is angry with his brother without cause shall be in danger of the judgment."

And I thought of Jesus, when asked by one of the Scribes, which is the first commandment of all, He answered, "The first of all commandments is, 'Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy strength. This is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these." And the scribe said unto Him, "Well, Master, Thou hast said the truth; for there is one God; and there is none other but He; And to love Him with all thy heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices." And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, He said unto him, "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." And no man after that durst ask him any question.

As recorded in the opening verses of the Gospel according to Matthew, Jesus was a Jew, directly descended from King David. Our beloved Mother Mary was a Jewess; and when Jesus was born the wise men of the East came to Jerusalem saying, "Where is He that is born King of the Jews." Jesus like John the Baptist, was normally addressed as "Rabbi," which means "master," the title used by the Jewish talmud students for their teachers.

Always this should be borne in mind by all Catholic journalists who must look with horror upon the cancer of race hatred and religious persecution that has fixed itself upon the body of Europe, and threatens to infect the Western areas of the world. The cries of fleeing Jewish children nineteen hundred years after the time of Herod must, in the name of Christ, be answered NOW by Catholic press and Catholic Action and Catholic force and power of every kind.

Hadassah Learns Youth Immigration Not Curtailed In New Palestine Schedule

To The Editor,

Hadassah received cabled information that despite the slight curtailment in the new general immigration schedule to Palestine, there would be "no restrictions in the number of certificates for Youth Aliyah" (immigration).

The cable which is credited to the Palestine government reads: "The Jewish immigration schedule for the six months period beginning October 1, provides that there shall be no restriction in the number of certificates for the Youth Aliyah composed of youngsters from Central Europe."

The information was released to Hadassah as the sole agency for the Youth Aliyah movement in the United States. Mrs. David R. Greenberg of New Rochelle, N. Y., national Youth Aliyah chairman stated. Children wishing to transfer to Palestine received special treatment in a previous schedule, which closed September 30, and which permitted 903 students from Germany, Austria and Poland to enter the Holy Land with the provision that places would be ready for them in accredited schools run by co-operative settlements and trade centers.

More than 1,400 children have already been graduated from schools in 35 agricultural co-operatives and 3 trade centers; and of these 75% have chosen to remain on the soil as farmers, it was stated.

The present schedule, which is in operation as of October 1, will provide for boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 17 registered with the Youth Aliyah bureaus in Berlin and London. So far, 3,100 children from Austria, Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia have been removed to Palestine. Information cabled this week from the Berlin and London Bureaus of the Youth Aliyah movement informed Hadassah that there are 4,000 children registered in Austria; more than 1,000 in Germany and "unlimited thousands in Poland," Mrs. Greenberg revealed. There are 113 children now en route to Palestine in six groups.

Peters Tells Inside Dope On Jewish Happenings

By PAUL A. PETERS

MISH-MASH: Wonder why a number of the members of the advisory board that annually selects the recipient of that Anglo-Jewish magazine's tolerance medal have resigned in a huff. . . . The resignees happen to be Republicans. . . . Dr. Angelo Goldstein, noted Czech Jewish deputy, is planning to visit these shores soon. . . . One who knew him well, recalls an interesting characteristic of Sir Robert Mond, British nickel magnate, scientist and Jewish leader who died recently in Paris. . . . When speaking to a visitor in the large parlor of his sumptuous Paris apartments—which was loaded with valuable archaeological relics—he would continuously walk around in a circle. . . . The visitor being obliged to keep up with him around the circuit or miss what he was saying. Wonder if they know that poem in Jerusalem which F.P.A. recently printed in his N. Y. Post column, a translation from the Latin entitled, "Jerusalem the Golden:"

O fields that know no sorrow!
O State that fears no strife!
O princely bowers! O land of flowers!
O realm and home of life!
